

LINER'S "JOHNNIES" HOAXED BY FIVE BALLET BEAUTIES

Johnny-at-the-Dock Takes Charge of English Girls'
Landing and Luggage.

Johnny-at-the-Dock today displaced the time-honored hero of slang, Johnny-on-the-Spot to the intense amusement of the many passengers who arrived by the Finland of the Red Star Line.

Among the passengers on the way over, the chief interest centered in five very young, very pretty and very English young women. They were on their way to take places in the Metropolitan Opera ballet. The girls attracted a lot of admirers who had planned to continue their pleasing associations when the ship docked.

But the wealthy youngsters on board did not know that the girls had been in this country before, and were surprised, when they landed and prepared to assist the five sirens with their luggage, to find that New York had sent down a contingent for that purpose and that the new arrivals were expected.

The disappointed youngsters looked angrily at the newcomers and the other passengers enjoyed the scene immensely.

Miss Rosa Sullivan, a cousin of Sir Arthur, and a writer of short stories, was the chief of the quintette.

Miss Leona M. Wells of Cheyenne, Wyo., who holds one of the most important governmental positions held by a woman, came back on the liner. She is clerk to the Senate Committee on Appropriations.

The new Belgian Minister and Mrs. Emanuel Havenith, were on the list. M. Havenith was, three years ago, Consul for his country here. More recently he was stationed in Persia. His wife was Miss Helen Frohde of Washington.

Guustav Walther, a violinist with very long hair, a $5,000 fiddle, and a reputation as an expert, arrived on a tour around the world. He said that he was literally fiddling his way, and that he would be heard in this country in concert. His plans take in Mexico and South America.

German Clericals Push Prominent
Questions at Opening of the Reichstag.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—The Reichstag re-assembled today after a long summer vacation. The programme of legislation is a long one, but it is likely that the greater part of it will await the succeeding Reichstag chosen at the coming elections. Among the measures to be introduced is one providing against the manufacture and sale of impure food.

Interpellations calling upon the Imperial Chancellor to make declarations relative to the position of the Government on the Moroccan affair with France, the occupation of Tripoli by Italy, and the revolution in China, and also what measures he proposed to take to combat the increasing cost of the necessities of life were introduced by members of the Clerical party, Radicals and Socialists. It was expected that Dr. von Bethmann Hollweg would fix a date for his reply this evening.

NURSE DISAPPEARS WHEN ANOTHER IS CALLED TO MOTHER

Sister Fears Suicide of Miss
Carrie Keeler, but Doctor
Tells of Disappointment.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Marsh of No. 45 East One Hundred and Forty-eighth street said today she feared her sister, Miss Carrie Keeler, who has been missing since Sept. 27, had taken her own life. From a doctor who knew Miss Keeler as a trained nurse quite a different theory was obtained.

"Miss Keeler had been in ill health," said the doctor, "and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Keeler, now eighty-eight years of age, is ill. The family thought the state of the daughter's health demanded that a private nurse be employed, and Miss Keeler was much opposed to any one being called to attend her mother except herself. Shortly before Miss Keeler left her home a private nurse was employed, and it is possibly true that she left home because of her disappointment that another should have been called to attend her mother."

Miss Keeler is forty-four years of age. Her last engagement was at the home of a wealthy family. While coming down the elevator she scratched her arm on a wire netting. Blood poisoning set in and the nurse was mentally disturbed over her condition. She recovered from the injury with no apparent bad results. Then it was that the question of nursing the mother arose. The daughter insisted it was her right to be at the bedside of the aged woman and to administer to her wants. When she was overruled by her married sister and another nurse was installed she declared:

"I am going away from this place." Then she left the house and has not been seen since. When she went away she had $15 in cash, a silver watch and some jewelry. When she did not return after a reasonable time the family began searching for her. Doctors for whom she had worked, other trained nurses, and the nurse's home were sought. When this quest brought no news the family asked the police to send out a general alarm for Miss Keeler.

LEISHMAN MUST WAIT.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Emperor William has postponed for several days the audience set for today, at which he was to receive the new American Ambassador, Mr. Leishman.

His Majesty is at his hunting lodge near Eberswalde, Prussia, but is more occupied with two outside wars than with game. The Chancellor is with the Emperor and they are deliberating upon conditions in China and Tripoli.

THEFT ON BOAT CHARGED.

Young Law Student Held on Complaint of Stateroom Companion.

Stanley Provo, a youthful travelling salesman and law student of No. 265 Shirley street, Winthrop, Mass., is in the Tombs, charged with stealing $56 from Lawrence Berg of No. 46 Fourteenth street, Brooklyn, with whom he shared his stateroom on board the Joy line steamship Georgia, from Providence to this city. He was arrested when the steamship docked at Pier 15, East River, today. Provo denied the charge, and although searched the $56 was not found.

In Centre Street Police Court Provo told Magistrate Herbert he did not believe Berg had $56 to begin with. He said he had been moved to pity by Berg's appearance on the boat and through charity had offered him a berth. "You must be familiar, as a law student, with the theory of exclusive opportunity," said the Magistrate. "Under that theory I will commit you to await the action of the Grand Jury."

GARVEY INDICTED.

Grand Jury Finds Bill Against Him for Murder of Storekeeper Stern.

Martin Garvey, held by the police, charged with the murder of Adolph Stern, in connection with the robbery of Jacob Jacoby's jewelry store, Sixth avenue and Thirteenth street, on the evening of July 22, was indicted for murder in the first degree, by the Grand Jury, late today.

Garvey was a porter at No. 4 Worth street. He is accused of being one of three men who drove up to Jacoby's store in a taxicab and, after smashing the window and stealing fifteen diamonds, shot Stern dead, as he rushed from the store to capture them. The Grand Jury was an additional one, impaneled in Part 1 of the General Sessions. The verdict was reported to Judge O'Sullivan. In all, sixteen witnesses were examined, including Beatrice Wolf, who furnished the police with their first information relative to Garvey. It resulted in his arrest on Oct. 3. He lived at No. 60 Leroy street. The irrefragable evidence, the police thought, was not sufficient to hold him.

On the instance, however, of Assistant District Attorney Du Vivier, Inspector Hughes and his men, went to work anew on the case. It is said they have secured much new evidence.

Garvey, who is twenty-four years old, will be arraigned to plead to-morrow morning before Judge O'Sullivan.

A 20-Year Advance in Mouth Hygiene

The world's foremost dental authorities, after long study and many tests, agree that Odolizing is the only practical way to keep the whole mouth, including the teeth, antiseptically clean.

Odolizing means using Odol, instead of depending solely on pastes, powders, creams, etc.—it means the proper hygiene of the whole mouth, of which the teeth are only a part.

Odol

Is the first and only dentifrice which neither evaporates nor washes away in the saliva.

Instead it impregnates the gums—overcomes "softness" or soreness of the gums and counteracts loosening of the teeth. And it works in between the teeth, into their cavities and hollows, and into the mucous membrane of the mouth and throat, where it remains and retains its effectiveness for hours.

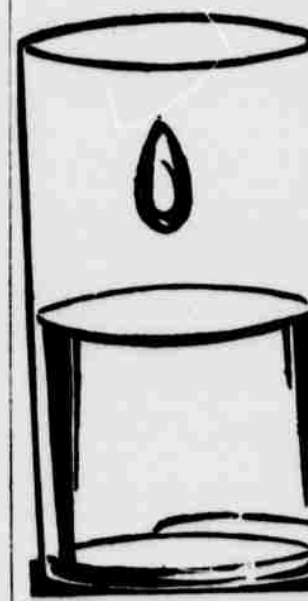

No other dentifrice of any kind has this long-lasting action—none other can be half so thorough as Odol.

And—while mild and pleasant-tasting—Odol is so effective that if the mouth is merely rinsed or gargled with a few drops in a little water—without the aid of a tooth-brush—it does more good than the most vigorous brushing with any other dentifrice.

Get a bottle to-day—let Odol prove its value as a cleanser and preserver of the teeth.
